FARMING COMPARED WITH OTHER PROFES-SIONS .- | By an Agricultural Editor. | Governor Chamberlain, in making some suggestions to the Legislature of Maine in his annual address, relative to the importance of farming, which he represents as the "great branch of our industries," adds : -- "Farming is rather a hard way to get rich but it is a good way to be independent. And I think, as a general thing, farmers are far happier than any other class of men who work as hard, whether with hands or brains." This sentiment will find an echo in the breast of nearly every business man in other pursuits. During the past year how many merchants or manufacturers can show that they stand as well in their business relations as they did the year before? and what vast numbers, in marking down their prices, find shrinkage in values far greater than all their profits for the year, whilst the capital has been dipped into for the supply of family wants-to pay for rents, equipages, and to keep up the appearance of health n business? On the other hand, the farmer, if he has not laid by much money-and a large number of grain growers, in consequence of the low price occasioned by the heavy crop made just year of wheat (their principal money erop), have not-yet, it he was out of debt before, need not be otherwise than in a comfortable condition, for he has been enabled to raise a sufficiency for his own support, if he is at all provident in his habits. And then from what a

DUCHESS DE BERRI.-Caroline Ferdinanda Louise, Duchess de Berri, whose death is reported by cable, was a daughter of Francis I., King of the Two Sicilies, and was born on the 5th of November, 1798. On the 17th of April, 1816, she married Prince Charles Ferdinand d'Artois, Duke de Berri, who was assassinated on the 13th of February, 1820. Seven months after his death she gave birth to a son, the present pretender to the throne of France. When the revolution of July, 1830, broke out, she resolved to leave the Tulleries and go to heaquarters of the insurgents with her son, hoping that by this step she would preserve the threne to the family. She was toroibly prevented. With the other members of the tamily she went into exile, but returned in 1832 to head the abortive insurrection of La Vendee. Betrayed by an infamous seoundrel she was captured by the authorities and confinin the Castle of Blaye and held there until, her pregnancy becoming known, she was forced to sign a declaration of having married the Count of Camec-Franco. She was then released and ever after lived in exile. The Duchess was a woman of great ability and of masou ine courage. In her youth she was noted for the beauty of her person.

load of mental agonies has he been exempted in comparison with other professions!

LARGE BUILDINGS IN NEW YORK .- The merchant princes of New York build themselves monuments now a days hardly less stupendous than the pyramids of the old Egyptian kings .- To Stewart's two immense piles at either end of the great trade thoroughfare of the metropolis, and Vanderbilt's freight depot down town, covering the whole of what was St. John's Park, there is now to be added a vast structure of glass, iron and masonry, covering nearly three acres, to be used for the passenger terminus of the three Vanderbilt railroads-the Hudson River, the New York Central, and the Harlem. It is to be located on the Fourth avenue at Forty fifth street, and will be ready for occupancy by next New Year's. The iron work is to cost about $1,000,000, it is said, and the contract has been given to a New York firm. The roof will require 100,000 square feet of glass. The architecture will be of a highly ornamental character, and the structure when completed will be one of the beauties as well as one of the sights of the great city.

THE CENSUS. - The ninth census of the United States will be taken under the privisions of the act of May 231, 1850 on the first of June next. The assistants are paid as follows: Two cents for every name taken; ten cents for every farm; fifteen cents for every productive establishment of industry; two cents for every dead person; and two per cent. of the gross amount of names enumerated, for social statis ties, and ten cents per mile for travel. It wil be seen by the foregoing that the compensation allowed an assistant or enumerator, provided the district allotted to him shall not contain less than 20 000 persons, will be about $600 or more. The United States Marshal is torbidden by law to accept any bribe or consideration for an appointment of assistants, and is liable to a fine of $1,000 shou'd he be convicted of so

A JUDGE INSANE IN THE COURT ROOM .-In the United States District Court at Trenton, on Tuesday during the progress of an argument by the district atterney, Judge Field, who was on the bench, rose from his seat, and with his face to the westerly wall of the court, litted up his hands, beat the air wildly with them and shouted out, "It is no use, it is no use, gentlemen, you will have to indict the judge ! and then he shricked and fell towards the wall, but was fortunately caught and conveyed, in an insensible condition, to his chambers in the State House. The scene created great confusion. Medical aid was promptly obtained, and it was learned about halt an hour afterwards that the attack had resulted from over applica tion to study and worry of mind.

NEW READING. - Some preachers of the Profound Significance school make mistakes which are just as bad -or as bad as that inventive pulpiteer who, on Luke x. 30, said "Mark, my brethren! we have here an example of decision of character. 'A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho." Observe, he was a certain min; he knew what he was about."

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the pride of his parents, should be snatched from all prespects and enjoyments of life by the consequence of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in a certain secret habit. Such persons must, before contemcret habit Such persons must, before contem-

MARRIAGE. reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial hap-piness. Indeed, without these the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prosp et hourly darkens to the view, the mind becomes shadowed with despair and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with your own.

DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE. When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds that he has imbibed the sends of this painful disease it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame or dread of discovery deters him from applying to those, wich from education and respectability, can alon befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease make their applying the constitutional symptoms. pearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs. nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deafness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity till at last the palate of the mouth or the lone of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commisseration, till death puts a period to his dreafful sufferings, by sending him to "hat Undiscovered Country from whence no traveller returns."

It is a MELANCHOLY FACT that thou sands fall victims to this terrible disease, owing sands fall victims to this terrible disease, owing to the unskilfulness of ignorant pretenders, who, by the use of that DEADLY POISON, MPR.
